In this article, we will take a look at some of the most famous quotes from the Yankees, and we will explore the wit and wisdom behind them.

Yogi Berra

Yogi Berra is one of the most famous baseball players of all time, and he is also one of the most quotable. Berra was known for his malapropisms, which were often unintentionally funny. However, there was also a lot of wisdom in Berra's words.

Here are some of Yogi Berra's most famous quotes:

- "It ain't over till it's over."
- "You can observe a lot by watching."
- "Baseball is 90% mental. The other half is physical."
- "I'm not going to buy my kids an encyclopedia. Let them walk to school like I did."
- "A nickel ain't worth a dime anymore."

Berra's quotes are often funny, but they also contain a lot of truth. His quote about baseball being 90% mental is a reminder that the game is as much about strategy and psychology as it is about physical skills. And his quote about a nickel not being worth a dime anymore is a reflection of the changing economic landscape of the United States.

Derek Jeter

Derek Jeter is another legendary Yankee who is known for his wit and wisdom. Jeter was a class act on and off the field, and he always had something insightful to say.

Here are some of Derek Jeter's most famous quotes:

- "There may be people who have more talent than you, but there's no excuse for anyone to work harder than you do."
- "The only way to prove you're a winner is to win."
- "Success is not final, failure is not fatal: it is the courage to continue that counts."
- "Don't let yesterday take up too much of today."

- "It's not about how hard you hit. It's about how hard you can get hit and keep moving forward."

Jeter's quotes are full of wisdom and inspiration. His quote about working harder than anyone else is a reminder that success is not just about talent, but also about hard work and dedication. And his quote about not letting yesterday take up too much of today is a reminder that we should focus on the present and not dwell on the past.

In addition to Yogi Berra and Derek Jeter, there are many other Yankees who have said memorable things over the years. Here are a few of our favorites:
